The Church Where
"Where Everybody is Somebody"

You are a gracious and compassionate God,
slow to anger and abounding in love.
Jonah 4:2

Daily Prayers Dissolve Your Cares

God of second chances, forgive us for not extending mercy to other. Show us someone with whom to share your loving-kindness today. Amen.

Thought for the Month

Freely you have received, freely give.

- Second Chances -

Jonah knew some truths about God—truths he had apparently wanted to keep to himself. Jonah has just experience God's loving-kindness. After God first called Jonah to go to Nineveh, Jonah ran away, putting his prejudice above God's directive.

I can't fault Jonah too much for resisting what God wanted. How often have I tried to hide from God, going my own way? How often have I avoided what I clearly sensed God would have me do? How often have I, like Jonah, wanted to see God punish others for their sins?

Even though Jonah disobeyed and ran from God, he was given a second chance. With grace and mercy, God was still willing to use Jonah in spite of his past failure. Jonah knew the Lord's compassion, and so do we. How can we then not want to see that mercy extended to others? God had given us another chance more times than we can count, and we become like God when we extend that second chance to others.

October - Breast Cancer A October - Breast Cancer Awareness Month-

Some women still don't get routine mammograms, which experts confirmed save live by finding cancer early, Are you one of those?

You have the power to do something about Breast Cancer.

Limit alcohol - Maintain a healthy weight - Stay physically active and limit fat intake.

Be vigilant about early detection. Start having yearly mammograms at age 40. If you notice any change in breast tissue, make an appointment with your doctor of nurse for an evaluation.

-My To Do List For Today-

- Count my blessings
- Let go of what I can't control
- Practice kindness
- Listen to my heart
- Be thankful for what I have
- Just breathe

-Little Johnny's Corner-

- Little Johnny and the Man -

Little Johnny was sitting on his step eating candy as fast as he could unwrap it. A man passing by saw what he was doing. The man said Little Johnny all that candy is not good for you and will spoil you're your dinner. Then Little Johnny said I don't know about that, my grandpa lived to be a 102. The man said wow you mean by eating candy. The Little Johnny said no, by minding his own business.
