The Church Where
"Where Everybody is Somebody"

Beloved, let us love one another, because love is from God; everyone who love is born of God and knows God. 1 John 4:7

The Power of Love

Our mentally disable friend Harry sits beside us in church. One Sunday, my wife and I stood to sing one of the great old hymns of the church. Harry did not stand because he did not know the words. When he knows the words, he stands and sings loudly and usually off-key.

In the pew behind us, a woman began to cry as we sang the hymn. Not wanting to embarrass her, we worshiper around her pretended that we did not notice hers tears, That is, all of the worshipers except one. Harry got up, went back to the woman, and gave her a warm hug. It was one of the most touching acts of compassion I have ever witnessed.

Harry may be limited in some ways, but he taught me something about the power of love. Love acts when someone is in pain.

Daily Prayers Dissolve Your Cares

Thank you, Lord, for your compassion and for those who demonstrate it to us. Make us as responsive to those in pain as you are.
Amen.

Thought for the Month:

Love reaches out in compassion to those in distress.

Little Johnny's Corner

Little Johnny in School

One day in school the teacher asks little Johnny, if there were five birds on the tree and you shoot two birds with your gun then how many would be left? None replies Little Johnny because they would all fly away. That is incorrect says the teacher, there would be three left.

Please remember the sick shut-ins and the bereaved with prayers, cards, and telephone calls.

Back To School Message

Files Chapel Family wish you a happy new beginning! Back to school can seem a little scary, but it means you are growing up and becoming even more awesome! This year, may you have terrific teachers, fabulous friends and a super school year in every way possible! Another school year means new opportunities.

September

The golden-rod is yellow;
The corn is turning brown;
The trees in apple orchards
With fruit are bending down.
The gentian's bluest fringes
Are curling in the sun;
In dusty pods the milkweed
Its hidden silk has spun.
The sedges flaunt their harvest,
In every meadow nook;
And asters by the brook-side
Make asters in the brook.
From dewy lanes at morning
the grapes' sweet odors rise;
At noon the roads all flutter
With yellow butterflies.
By all these lovely tokens
September days are here,
With summer's best of weather,
And autumn's best of cheer.
But none of all this beauty
Which floods the earth and air
Is unto me the secret
Which makes September fair.
'T is a thing which I remember;
To name it thrills me yet:
One day of one September
I never can forget.

September Quotes Goodbye August Hello September

Never underestimate the power of dreams and the influence of the human spirit.

To achieve greatness one should live as if they will never die.

People do not decide to become extraordinary.

Desire, burning desire, is basic to achieving anything beyond the ordinary.
